

"LIFE IN A WEEK"

TRUST MONITOR POLICY

Group projects run on trust, respect and kindness. To ensure the "Life in a Week" global learning project is successful this trust monitor policy must be adhered to by all participants. Any person(s) who violated this policy will NOT continue. Appropriate disciplinary actions and grading will ensue. Please report all inappropriate conduct or violations to the project coordinators so proper actions may be taken.

- Digital Citizenship is the number 1 priority. bullying, profanity, abusive, or suggestive language of any kind will not be tolerated.
- All submitted work must be original if unoriginal content is used it must adhere to copyright laws) <https://www.copyright.gov/title17/> , which will be reviewed with participating students. (research royalty free works)
- Students will not reveal any personal information other than their first name.
 - home address, personal identification numbers, personal phone number or other personal information that may jeopardize the safety of the participants.
- Teachers are expected to closely monitor all activities relevant to the project and student's interaction.
 - The students must share the username and password for all accounts used for the project with their home teacher and project coordinator via the provided google form.
- By submitting images, video, music, intellectual property resources, participants are hereby agreeing that the "Life in a Week" global learning project can freely share these works within the global community for educational use.
 - Also, the works created will NOT be used for political and monetary gains.
- All students and teachers are to abide by their school district's internet and technology Acceptable Use Policies.